MIDDLEBURG.

The Middleburg Normal College will open New Year's day. A good attendance is predicted.

Frank Sandusky, of Casey's Creek, and Miss Lydia Bell, daughter of Frank Bell, of Lincleville, were married Xmas.

Bonta, the little 18-months-old son of John Coulter, had an eye badly burned by the careless use of a Roman candle.

The Christmas just passed was undoubtedly the dullest ever experienced in Middleburg. We would never have thought of Christmas had it not been for the time of year. A most noticeable feature was the absence of fireworks.

There is considerable sickness in the community, though no serious cases are reported. Mrs. J. R. Wilson is still very poorly. George Wesley has a three-year-old daughter down with scarlet fever and another child with the mumps.

Prof. D. Edgar Fogle, of Georgetown College, is spending the holidays with his parents. James Rumpstay, of Louisville, is visiting E. E. Kelsey and family. Master Rod Wesley and sisters, Misses Cora and Ada, of Lancaster, are spending the holidays with relatives here. Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Lawhorn, of Lexington, are here for a few days. George Holt and wife, of near Natural Bridge, are spending a short time with friends and relatives. George Ross, of Arp, Texas, is visiting relatives here. Mrs. R. H. Jeter is visiting relatives near Campbellsville. Mrs. Maria Powell, of Louisville, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Reed McCormick. Perry Wesley and wife left for Louisville last week, where they will reside temporarily, the former to study dentistry. The Wayne county boys all came in for the holidays. Rev. D. E. Fogle and Misses Bessie and Ruby are visiting relatives in Louisville. Miss Minnie Shannon, of Junction City, spent Christmas here. Supt. J. C. Lay was in Frankfort and Lexington last week. John Swope visited in Parkersville last week. Prof. Davis and wife and Mr. Depp and wife have returned from Hustonville. Robert Hall has returned from Somerset. Duke and Steuben Godbey have returned to C. U.

LIBERTY.

The Baptist church is nearing completion.

Henry Taylor is building a handsome residence in Liberty.

George King has sold his back line to Gibony & Bell for $1,000.

Miss Pearl Montgomery, of Hamilton College, is at home this week, to the delight of some of the Liberty beaux.

The store room connected with the Exchange Hotel is being arranged for the postoffice, which will be in charge of Mrs. Mattie McRoberts the first of the year.

Mrs. Juan Hall, who has been sick for some time, is slowly improving. Mrs. Will Myers and children, of Hustonville, are visiting her mother and other relatives here.

Prof. Thomas has bought property and will make Liberty his home. We are glad to have such men as Mr. Thomas come in. He will open school the 1st of January with Miss Effie Godby as assistant.

The L. T. L., under the training of Mrs. Winne Wilkinson and Miss Anna Belden, will give an entertainment in the near future. Much interest is being manifested in the Legion and with their careful training success is assured.

The friends of Robert Wayman are glad to see him back in Liberty after a prospecting trip of several months in Oklahoma. Geo. Montgomery, of K. U., is at home. Winston Phillips, who is attending a dental college in Louisville is at home.

Mrs. Ruperts and daughters, formerly of Danville, have moved to the residence of Mrs. Coots. They entertained a number of friends Friday evening from 8 to 12 in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Will Reuter. Misses Lucy Bell, Ollie Rice, Ethel Smith and Messrs. Sam Bell and Geo. Parry, of Danville, attended the Phillips-Bell wedding. Robert Allen, of Lexington, is expected here to meet his sister, Mrs. Fields Montgomery, who with her husband, is visiting relatives at this place.

The parlors and halls of the Exchange Hotel rang with joy and merriment last Thursday evening. As announced by invitation "The Sale of Old Bachelors" and oyster supper given by the young men of Liberty, came off. Business and cares were given to the winds and all made happy and glad. The market was full and prices ranged from five cents to $5. The auctioneer, Richard Giboney, did justice to every sale, describing all the good qualities of the bachelors, such as knocked-kneed, bow legged, blue eyed, black eyed, cross eyed, false teeth, toothless, bald heads, red heads, red noses, etc., ages ranging from 13 to 73. The man who brought the highest price was only 73. The last on the block brought higher prices, for then the fair maids had begun to realize that owing to scarcity of the unsold bachelors, it was time for them to bid or be left to mourn for what might have been. Some of the bachelors who sold at such reduced prices, contested the sale, desiring to be sold by weight and not by the head. The contest was led by Os Bowman, whose size and redeeming qualities are far above the average, and is well known to be fully competent to make an excellent living for a wife. After the sale, each purchaser with her purchase, repaired to the supper hall, where a bountiful supply awaited them. The tables were decorated with ferns and roses, which gave to the room, with its lights, glass and silver, a picture of loveliness. After supper the assembly was entertained by a committee appointed for that purpose, P. W. Whipp and J. P. Cowden standing at the helm to see that all went well with the guests. Many thanks to the young men of Liberty and "hurrah" for the Exchange Hotel and its kind host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Staggs.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season was that of Mr. Charles Phillips and Miss Della Bell at the Christian church on Wednesday evening, Dec. 25th, at 5 o'clock. The beautiful and impressive ceremony was said by the pastor, Elder J. Q. Montgomery. The church was decorated with evergreens, ferns, roses and lilies. The form of decoration was that of triple arches. Miss Annie Belden presided at the organ and as the melodious strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march filled the church the bridal party took their places. Following Bro. Montgomery, first in order came four little girls dressed in white, carrying wands trimmed with ferns and roses. These little girls were Lula and Minnie Bell, sister and cousin to the bride, Allie Staggs and Frances Portman. They took their positions in front of the bridal altar and formed two arches with their wands one on the right and one on the left. Next came four smaller girls, Gerlie Bell, Katie Warriner, Mary Staggs and Mary Coots, dressed in white, carrying bouquets of pink and white roses, crossing and passing through the arches to their positions. Next came the ushers, Messrs. George Montgomery, Winston Phillips and James Cowden. The bride passed up the right aisle and the groom the left, meeting under a canopy of lilies and ferns. The bride was dressed in pink satin de alma, trimmed with white silk, embroidered lilies and carried a bouquet of white roses and ferns. After the ceremony the bridal party and guests went to the home of Mr. T. J. Bell, on Church Avenue, where a reception was given. Congratulations, Christmas greetings, and good wishes generally were in order until all were invited out to the wedding feast, which was sumptuously grand, consisting of six courses, beautifully served and much enjoyed. Altogether the occasion was one to be remembered with pleasure. As we think of the groom in young manhood and the bride in her youth, beauty and innocence, we wish them much joy and prosperity through life and as the years come to them, whether they bring sunshine or sorrow, they can look back with a sweet and happy remembrance to their beautiful bridal eve.

Crab Orchard.

Rev. Bruce preached Sunday night at the Baptist church.

Mrs. J. W. James spent a few days with Mrs. A. Addams, of Lebanon.

Little Shirley Gover received a very pretty Christmas present. Old Santa had a beautiful little Shetland pony standing in his mother's hall ready to greet his awakening Christmas morning.

This is the last day of the old year—an appropriate time for reflection, for "talking with our past hours and ask what report they bore to Heaven," and a fitting time for good resolutions for the new year.

The Christmas tree at the Baptist church was a success, with the exception that Forest Foley, who was representing Mrs. Santa Claus, was quite severely burned by his costume catching fire from the wax candles.

The holidays have passed very quietly here, with very few happenings to relieve the monotony. Charlie Likens, who was shot by Hiram Grant on Xmas Eve, is reported as doing reasonably well. It was a lamentable affair, and one to be regretted, as poor Crab Orchard is so frequently branded with similar tragedies, brought about by non-residents of our otherwise peaceful little city.

Dr. James Munday Bronaugh, of Purcell, I. T., is spending a few brief days with loved ones at home. He will leave tomorrow, Wednesday, for Lexington, where he will remain until the 7th when he will claim one of Lexington's fair and lovely belles as his own. Miss Effie Huffman being the fortunate one. The twain will be made one flesh and go to the far and prosperous West and grow up with the country. Here are congratulations in advance, may their lives here upon earth be long, abundantly happy and useful and finally may Heaven with all its joys be their eternal home, is the wish of their many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, of Louisville, are with the family of Dr. Pettus. John Buchanan, of Louisville, spent a few days with his mother, Mrs. Jane Buchanan. The friends of Master Charlie Holman are glad to see him once more. His sojourn in his Montgomery, Ala., home has improved him considerably. Master A. T. Culton returned home last week from visiting friends in Richmond. He was accompanied by Miss Daisy Glibert. After a very pleasant visit to Mrs. Anna May Eubanks, of Paris, Miss Mattie Beazley returned to her home here Tuesday. Dr. Doores is visiting his daughter in Shelbyville, Ind. Miss Lizzie Beazley is having quite a merry house party at her hospitable home near the depot. The party consisting of Misses Annie Austin, Harris and Simpson, of Lancaster, also Messrs. Collier.

A GOOD COUGH MEDICINE.
(From the Gazette, Toowoomba, Australia.)
I find Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is an excellent medicine. I have been suffering from a severe cough for the last two months, and it has effected a cure. I have great pleasure in recommending it.—W. O. Wockner. This is the opinion of one of our oldest and most respected residents and has been voluntarily given in good faith that others may try the remedy and be benefited, as was Mr. Wockner. This remedy is sold by Craig & Hocker, druggists.

HUSTONVILLE.

Messrs. W. M. Myers and C. T. Bohon will ship a car load of extra good mules to Atlanta today, Tuesday.

The "Old Fiddler's Contest" at Alcorn's Opera House tomorrow night is an assured success, if there is any indication from a large number of entries for the prizes.

A good many horsemen have been here lately. W. S. Drye & Co. sold to a Michigan party a road mare for $150 and to Ball Bros., of Versailles, their fine trotting mare, by Winks and out of a Lighthouse mare that has stepped a quarter in 38, for $400.

Born, to the wife of E. Burdette Powell, a boy, on the 24th. Dr. Carl Wheeler came over from Lexington Sunday to visit his parents. Popular and clever "Tood" Adams came over from Danville to attend the entertainment given by the Red Men. C. W. Adams, who has been confined to his room for several days, is able to be back at business.

Misses Edna and Dot Camnitz and Messrs. George A. Dinwiddie and Roy Bonta, of Lexington, Val B. Morse and O. S. Williams attended the hop at Stanford last Friday night and report a fine time. J. G. Weatherford and W. M. Myers were in Cincinnati last week buying goods. Mr. Myers returned Saturday while Mr. Weatherford will visit his family in Latonia for a few days. Wm. Neal has returned home to visit his parents from Salt Lake City.

The following officers and board of directors of The Wayne Oil & Gas Co. were elected at their meeting here Saturday: J. W. Lockridge, president and manager; George D. Weatherford, secretary and treasurer; W. M. Myers, James Frye, J. C. Barker, W. R. Williams, J. W. Lockridge, George D. Weatherford and Charles Wheeler board of directors. Contracts have been let for two wells and work has begun. This lease is in sight of 10 producing wells, the nearest being Beaver Creek No. 1 that has struck oil in a 12 foot strata of Gordon sand, something entirely different from any other strike in Wayne and insures a flow as good in five or 10 years as it is today. "Striking Oil," an up-to-date comedy, with many local hits and interspersed with music, was well rendered Thursday night at Alcorn's Opera House to a crowded house. Standing room was at a premium. The members of the company deserve much credit for the able manner in which they rendered their parts. Some of whom with only 10 days rehearsal, most strikingly evidenced the talent of successful professionals. To particularize all that are deserving would include a coterie too lengthy for your valued space. However the characters of Mrs. Plunkett by Miss Pearl Rose and Mrs. Watson by Miss Edna Camnitz and Elvira Clarendon by Miss Victoria Bishop showed a close study of the difficult characters they represented and mature judgment in their rendition. The music was all well rendered and Dollie B. Williams completely captivated the entire audience with her popular ballads and rag-time coon songs that would have to be seen and heard to be appreciated. The large audience showed its high appreciation of Madame Harry Lockridge's piano selections, so artistically rendered, by their generous applause. The characters of Mr. Watson and O'Rafferty assumed by Mr. Chas. Wheeler in "Boring for Oil," though evidently different in dialect, were so ably rendered that the best eye of an old footlight favorite would turn green with envy.

CHURCH MATTERS.

Rev. J. W. Hagin's subject Sunday morning is "Christ's First Message to the World;" evening, "Jesus Only." Rev. R. R. Noel's meeting at Broadhead closed with 20 additions, 15 of which were first confessions. He baptized 11 of the converts Sunday afternoon. The church at that place has called Rev. Noel and he may accept.

OUT FOR CONGRESS.

Elsewhere we publish a card from the Hon. Richard Crutchfield Warren, of this city, in which he announces his candidacy for the democratic nomination for Congress in this district. We are heartily glad to publish the announcement. It has been feared that his modesty and disinclination to oppose the aspirations of other excellent gentlemen in this direction would cause him to decline the race, notwithstanding the desire—widely felt and expressed in this portion of the district—that he should be a candidate. To the people of Lincoln county, where he has lived since early manhood; to the people of Boyle, where he was born and reared; and to the people of the adjoining counties, where he has long and honorably practiced his profession, Mr. Warren needs neither introduction nor indorsement. But to those of remoter counties where he is not so well known we may be permitted to say that no man in the State is better fitted by nature and by training, or worthier by reason of character and public service, to fill and adorn this important station than is the subject of this notice. He is a sincere Christian, without bigotry or cant; he is a sound lawyer with no conception of chicanery or sharp practice; he is a democrat, loyal and tried and true, but without narrowness or bitterness; he is an honest, upright man whom no bribe could tempt nor danger deter from the straightest path of honor and duty. This is not meant, we beg to say, merely as a perfunctory compliment to a popular fellow-townsmen, but it is written with all the earnestness and warmth of the genuine conviction that it is only his due. If he is elected, or, rather, let us say, when he is elected, it will be but a short while before the people of the entire district will have learned the simple truth of this tribute and know that they can lean in any emergency and with unquestioning confidence on the solid virtues, on the sober sagacity and on the calm courage of the man from Lincoln. We only voice the unanimous feeling of his home county in wishing him an easy victor in the contest for the nomination, and THEN we pledge him in the final race the greatest majority ever given in the county's history since the Man and Brother was made a voter.

THE silly story was telegraphed from New York that Pat T. Farnsworth had challenged Desha Breckinridge, editor of the Lexington Herald, to fight a duel, because the latter had said that Farnsworth left Lexington because he was afraid of him (Breckinridge.) Editor Breckinridge was as much surprised at the news as his friends were and says he never made such a remark and barely knows Farnsworth. He is not letting the matter worry him in the least.

THE Elks of a number of cities have done great good for the poor during the last week. At Louisville 10,000 presents were given the unfortunates by that order, while at Lexington and Danville the B. P. O. E.'s made substantial presents that carried joy to many hearts. If the members continue the good work "Best People On Earth" will be no misnomer, but a most appropriate name for the jolly Elks.

AN Indiana man died of blood poisoning, superinduced by a slight abrasion of the tongue caused by licking the mulligan on an envelope with a view of sealing it. Had he licked the dry part of the envelope, it would have stuck better and he would have been spared the unpleasantness of dying with a bad taste in his mouth. Let the living profit by his example.

THE president has proven again that he prefers the company of Negroes to that of white people. On a recent hunting trip in Virginia he declined the hospitality of men of his own race and dined with a Negro at his cabin. Teddy's fondness for the colored brother may cause him to put one or two of them in his cabinet.

EDITORS HARRIS and Jones, of the Adair News and Spectator, respectively, after calling each other all sorts of bad names, have kissed and made up and the country breathes easier.

THE Jessamine Journal celebrated its 27th birthday last week. Here's hoping Editors McCarty and Stears will see their good paper celebrate many more birthdays.

DISPATCHES say that Gen. Basil W. Duke once saved the life of Gov. Durbio, of Indiana. An anxious public arises to ask, what did he do it for?

THE Danville News paid no attention to Christmas, but went along and got out a new double issue. The News is indeed a lively youngster.

GOV. SHAW, of Iowa, has accepted the treasury portfolio and the president now has two cabinet members from that State.

THE new county officers will take their seats, so to speak, next Monday. The retiring officers have good, clean records to look back on and both they and their friends are proud of them. Mr. S. M. Owens has made one of the very best sheriffs Lincoln county has ever had and he goes out of office with friends galore. He will spend a portion of his time settling up the business of his office and the rest on his fine farm near McKinney. Jailer DeBord, probably the most popular man in the county, will move to his recently purchased farm in the East End. Granville Baker, Lincoln's clever assessor, retires with the good will of everybody, irrespective of politics. We are glad to say that Judge James P. Bailey, County Clerk G. B. Cooper, Supt. Garland Singleton and County Attorney Harvey Helm will have to make no change in business but will just go along serving the county with credit alike to themselves and their constituency. That the county's affairs will be well cared for for four years more, no one will gainsay and we expect to see Lincoln in a better condition financially four years hence than she has been in a half century. Our fiscal court is made up of good men and true who will take pride, at all times, in doing that which will redound to the best interests of the county. Our Representative and Senator have both proven themselves good men for the offices to which they were elected and profiting by the experience they have had we believe Hons. M. F. North and George T. Farris will be of incalculable benefit to the grand old county of Lincoln—the garden spot of all creation.

IN a few hours the old year will have been numbered with the things that were and the new year ushered in. Tomorrow is the day to make good resolutions and in slaug' parance a day when many will "swear off." THE INTERIOR JOURNAL's resolve is that it will be a better paper and will try the harder to please its friends—the advertisers and subscribers. Right here it may not be out of place to state that we will make some decided improvements in 1902, about which we will speak later. We are exceedingly thankful for the liberal patronage received during the year just closing and ask a continuance, promising to carry out as far as possible our resolve made above. We wish all of our readers, their sisters, their cousins and their aunts a happy and prosperous new year and extend to them the compliments of the season.

TEDDY is determined to have the unanimous support of the colored brother for a second term. His bold stroke to that end in dining with Booker Washington was supplemented with a cake walk at the White House on Christmas day in which the president of the United States took the leading part. From the press reports of the manner in which he acquitted himself, the celebrated "Frog Eye" is in danger of losing the belt.

THE Elton Progress prints a fine picture of Kentucky's next U. S. Senator—Gov. James B. McCreary—and copies dozens of complimentary mentions of him taken from other papers.

KILLED.—George Hays, son of Brent Hays, colored, was shot in a saloon at Springfield, Ill., Christmas day by a white man named Charles Fairchild, and died Saturday. The remains will arrive here tomorrow. Hays was in the employ of Mr. C. E. Miller, of Rochester, that State, and was making him a splendid hand.

THE HOP.—The hop Friday evening was one of the most enjoyable events of the holidays. The immortal Saxton furnished inspiring music and some 30 couples tripped the light fantastic till the wee sma' hours. A number of good dancers from surrounding towns were present and everybody had a good time. It was a full dress affair and beauty and chivalry was in evidence on every hand. It would be a hard task to find 30 prettier girls than those who danced, and good looks was not confined exclusively to the participants either, for there were handsome matrons and beautiful girls who merely looked on.

THE Old Fiddlers' Contest proved an enjoyable entertainment and a "good thing" for Messrs. J. R. and E. H. Beazley, the managers. The total receipts were $110 and after deducting the prizes of $15 in gold, hall rent etc., the promoters had enough left to buy a nice Christmas present each. There were eight contestants, as follows: Alex Martin, Rowland O. T. Wallace, Point Leavel; Larkin Hicks, Brodhead; Frank Vallandingham, Science Hill; Armp Dawson, Mt. Xenia; Sam Bishop, Turnersville; Charles Polindexter, Marcellus; Thomas S. Moore, Marksburg; and the music they made MIGHT have melted a heart of stone, but we don't think it did. All of the contestants did well but Drs. Clifton Fowler, Steele Bailey and Mr. W. T. Tucker, thought that Messrs. Hicks, Vallandingham and Dawson outplayed the rest and had them "saw off another tune." They finally decided that Mr. Hicks was entitled to the $10 in gold and Mr. Vallandingham to the $5. The decision, of course, did not please all but might be considered a popular one. Geo. B. Saufley acted as chairman and made a good one. His remarks in the beginning were very appropriate and were well received. A delightful feature of the entertainment was not on the program. At the request of the managers, Miss Polly Traylor favored the audience with a humorous recital entitled "Terpsichore in the Flat Creek Quarters," which "brought down the house," so to speak.

THE Lincoln County National Bank has declared its semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent.

IN a difficulty at Crab Orchard David Thompson was severely cut in the shoulder by John Payne.

PARIS SHOTWELL, brother of the Shotwell boys in jail here, was held in $2,000 bond for killing Hiram Baker at Corbin last week. Tom Hartford, who was implicated in the killing, was held in $1,000.

SNOW.—News comes from Middlesboro that snow to the depth of 10 inches covered the earth there yesterday morning. A heavy snow also fell at Livingston. It scarcely covered the ground here.

SHOT HIMSELF.—Walter W. Saunders' pistol accidentally discharged the other day and a .38-calibre bullet went crashing through two fingers of his left hand. The bone of one finger was broken and the wound has proven a very painful one.

KISS COST A FLOGGING.—Dr. G. M. Crayton, a Lebanon Junction dentist, kissed the pretty wife of Marion P. arce, an L. & N. engineer on this division, while she was in his chair. After being severely flogged by the husband he was chased out of town.

FOLLOWING are the entries at the Old Fiddlers' Contest at Hustonville to-morrow, Wednesday night: Larkin Hicks, Alex Martin, Thomas Wheeler, Tack Nail, Henry McKinney, Sam Bishop, Frank Vallandingham, Dr. W. L. Lowder, Ansel Latham, Bill Turpin.

DR. J. C. BARKER, who was here from Hustonville yesterday, told us that the Beaver Creek Oil & Gas Co. has reached a depth of 1,000 feet and will rest awhile. A flow of about eight barrels per day continues and the company will await developments of other wells close by before going deeper into the earth.

AS will be seen from their advertisement, Severance & Sons have sold to The Fair Co., of which Mr. T. D. Racey will be manager, the larger part of their stock of goods and the rest will be closed out as soon as possible. The Fair Co. will occupy the Portman store-room, which is being fitted up, and the opening will take place in about 10 days.

ENGLEMAN.—After a lingering illness Mr. Joseph Helm Engleman, of Danville, passed into the great beyond Tuesday evening, aged 65. He had been in declining health for some time, and recently submitted to an operation for appendicitis, from which he seemed to rally with wonderful vitality for one of his years, so much so, in fact, as to stimulate the hope of his ultimate recovery, but some days ago he was taken with a severe chill and gradually grew weaker until the end came. Mr. Engleman was born in this county and married a daughter of the late Barney VanArsdale. She preceded him to the grave and his second wife, who survives, was Miss Bell, daughter of the late Hon. Joshua F. Bell. Besides the wife six children are left to mourn the loss of a kind and indulgent husband and father. The funeral occurred at his late residence in Danville Friday and was conducted by Dr. E. M. Green. Mr. Engleman was a half brother of Mr. George R. Engleman, of this county.

PENNINGTON.—Mrs. T. M. Pennington died Thursday of paralysis, aged 64. Some 17 months ago she suffered a stroke, but felt little inconvenience from it, but the fatal one came just after dinner Christmas day and she was never conscious afterward. Mrs. Pennington's maiden name was Goggin and she was born in Pulaski county. Early in life she united with the Presbyterian church and had been a faithful follower of the meek and lowly Nazarene since. Besides her aged husband five children, Mesdames C. T. Thomson and P. E. Kemp and Messrs. Bowen G. Eph and Tim M. Pennington, are left to mourn the loss of a wife and mother, who was a mother in all the word implies. Mrs. Pennington was one of those gentle, warm-hearted women, who was never happier than when making others happy and her deeds of kindness were not confined to her household, but her neighbors and others shared her goodness. Her loss will be keenly felt by all who knew her and loved her for her many noble traits of character. She had frequently talked of dying and had repeatedly expressed her willingness to meet her Maker. Having lived an upright, Godly life she was not afraid of death, but looked to it as the beginning of a new and blissful life. After services at the home at 10 o'clock Saturday morning by Rev. S. M. Rankin all that was mortal of the loving wife and tender mother was taken to Buffalo Springs Cemetery and laid to rest until the resurrection morn.
